

Scan to See Books
Published by
Green Heart Living Press

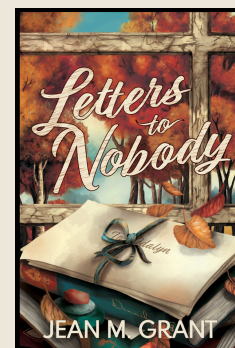

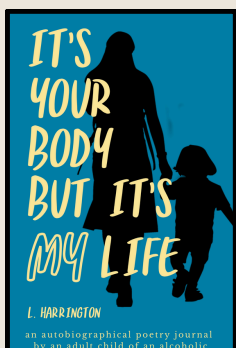

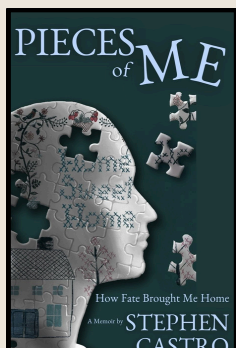

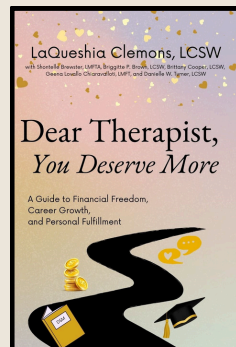

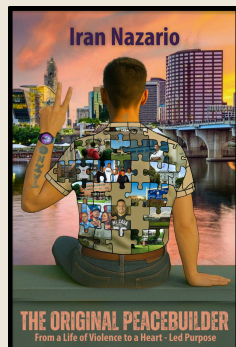

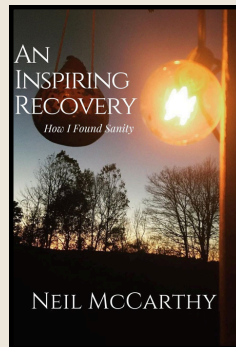

A CELEBRATION OF AUTHORS

BOOK FAIR

Keep on the lookout for our next book fair in Spring 2026

New Releases Published by Green Heart Living Press by Connecticut Authors

Letters to Nobody
Jean M. Grant
Smalltown librarian trying to close the book on the past. Gabe is a struggling author looking for his mysterious muse. Will a plot twist bring hope for a new chapter before the bulldozers arrive to demolish Helen's family library?

Finding Charlie
Jess Allen
Dust off that pager and break out the cucumber melon lotion, because we're headed back to 1994 in this sweet but spicy second-chance romance. Follow Charlie and Liam reconnecting, to each other and their son, one pitch at a time.

Blood United
Ariel Rae
The first book in a completed dark romantasy series, where reluctant allies form a tumultuous and steamy relationship.

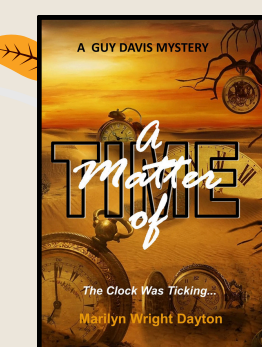

Historical Moments
Robert R. Harris

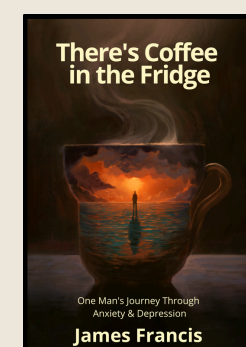

Autumn BOOK FAIR

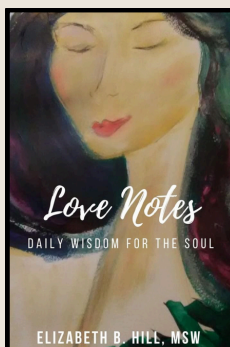

Remembering You
J.J. Hart
A week in paradise sparks stolen glances, late-night talks, and undeniable chemistry. Jude wants a second chance—but can Faith trust him? Fate offers a second chance as the trip ends. Will they walk away—or risk it all for a love that never faded?

A Matter of Time
Marilyn Wright Dayton

There's Coffee in the Fridge
James Francis
James Francis literally "had it all"—and decided one day it was time to end it all. James courageously shares his story of what anxiety and depression can look like (it may surprise you) and what it really takes to rebuild a life.

Love Notes: Daily Wisdom for the Soul
by Elizabeth B. Hill, MSW
Founder of Green Heart Living Press

An Event By:

Learn About This and Future
Sip & Story Events

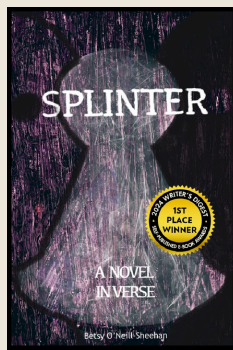

*i take this opportunity
write you a few lines
our health is hope
alth i miss you
at i hope the time
when you will
mily again
as a fr
er i cov
is here
d a br
add a br ed cook sp
on s...her
for
for you*

Thursday, October 23, 2025
5-8 pm
Manchester Country Club
Manchester, CT

The Case of Thistledown House
Ellis Colton

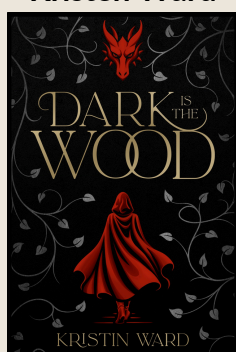

Solving crime has no age limit. Meet four ladies in their early 70s, led by a retired Private Investigator. Their office is a senior living facility.

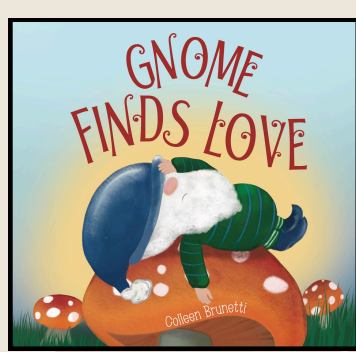

Splinter
Betsy O'Neill-Sheehan

At eighteen, Brewen has no family and nowhere to go. Her best friend sneaks her into her dorm. This two-perspective novel dives into the mind of a survivor, weaving through college parties, chess games, confusion, friendship, fire and hope.

Dark is the Wood
Kristen Ward

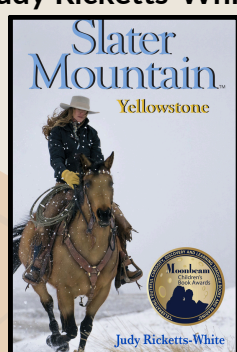

Gnome Finds Love
Colleen Brunetti

I Did it for Her
Daisy Plaza

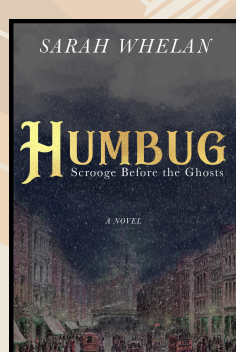

Slater Mountain
Judy Ricketts-White

The Shutdown List
Sharon Dukett

Anita's husband disappears after leading climate activists in a protest. Warned she is also in danger, she embarks on a perilous search for him, unaware he has kept a crucial secret from her.

Humbug
Sarah Whelan

The book tells Scrooge's story before the ghostly visits in A Christmas Carol—his love affair with Jacob Marley and the losses, trials, and responsibilities that turned him into the miserly old man we think we know so well.

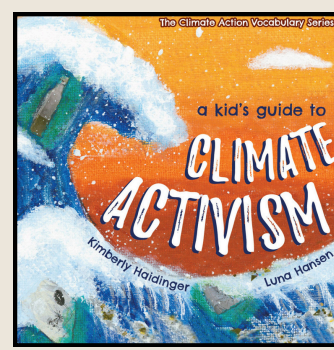

For the Love of Glitter
Sarah Branson

Almost seventeen, Grey Shima is ready to join the Bosch Pirate Force—until love, rebellion, and a dangerous secret force her to choose between legacy, conscience, and loyalty in a glittering, treacherous world.

The Witchfinder's Serpent
Rande Goodwin

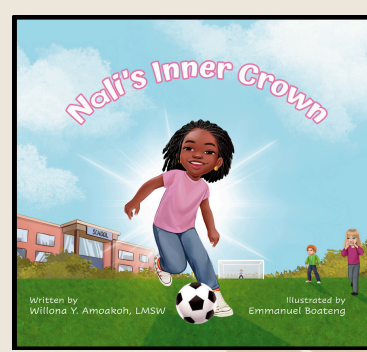

Nate's search for answers leads him to a forbidden, locked door in Aunt Celia's mansion. Inside, he finds a witch's workshop full of mystical artifacts, some dating back to the time of the earliest Puritan settlers.

A Kid's Guide to Climate Activism
Kimberly Haidinger & Luna Hansen

This book shows how everyday choices helps our planet, with climate vocabulary with kid-created art, thought-provoking questions—empowering kids and adults with simple, sustainable ways to make change.

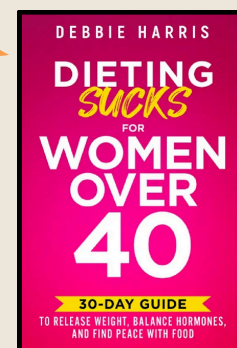

Nali's Inner Crown
Willona Y. Amoakh, LMSW

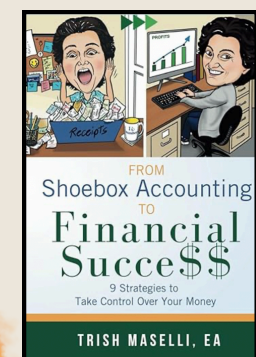

I Hug You in My Heart
April Goff Brown

A tender story between grandparent and grandchild. Inspired by a question her granddaughter Kayla once asked – “Nana, when I’m not here, do you forget about me?”

Dieting Sucks for Women Over 40
Debbie Harris

Secrets of a Serial Networker
Anne Garland

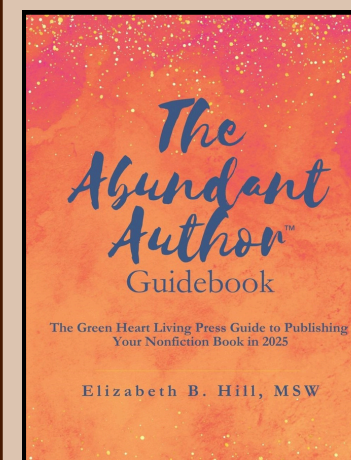

From Shoebox Accounting to Financial Success
Trish Maselli, EA

Nine strategies to take control over your money. Find financial success with this easy-to-read book.

PUBLISH YOUR BOOK

The Abundant Author® Guidebook
Elizabeth B. Hill, MSW

This guidebook will give you the tools you need to publish your book and help it reach as many readers as possible. You will be led through the seven steps needed to grow a book: Vision, Write, Edit, Design, Proof, Launch, and Grow.

Turn Your Story into Gold.

